STAFF PRIVACY NOTICE

(How we use your personal information)

This notice explains what information we collect, when we collect it and how we use this. During the course of our activities, we will process personal data (which may be held on paper, electronically, or otherwise) about you and we recognise the need to treat it in an appropriate and lawful manner. The purpose of this notice is to make you aware of how we will process your personal data.

Introduction

The purpose of this staff privacy notice, which also applies to job applicants and ex-employees, is to explain to you the reasons which we process your personal data and explain your rights under the current data protection laws.

We collect and process personal data relating to you to manage our relationship with you. We are committed to being transparent about how we collect and use your data, and to meeting our data protection obligations in respect of your personal data.

As your employer we may collect and process personal data relating to you to manage our contract, including pre-contractual negotiations, with you. We are committed to being transparent about how we collect and use your data, and to meeting our data protection obligations with you.

This notice does not form part of your contract of employment or engagement with us. It applies to all our employees, workers, volunteers, apprenticeships and consultants (which includes applicants), regardless of length of service, and may be amended at any time. If any amendments are required in the future, we will notify you as is appropriate.

Who are we?

The Whiteinch Group are registered as data controllers with the Information Commissioner's Office as follows:

- Whiteinch & Scotstoun Housing Association: Z6594479
- WS Estate Services Ltd: ZA338881
- WS Property Management Ltd: Z3117467

The Whiteinch Group takes the issue of security and data protection very seriously, including compliance with UK data protection laws, including the UK General Data Protection Regulation, the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Privacy and Electronic Regulations.

If you do not wish to provide your personal data

You have obligations under your employment contract to provide the organisation with the necessary data. In particular, you are required to report absences from work and may be required to provide information about disciplinary or other matters under the implied duty of good faith. You may also have to provide the Association with data in order to exercise your statutory rights, such as in relation to statutory leave entitlements. Failing to provide the data may mean that you are unable to exercise your statutory rights.

Certain information, such as contact details, your right to work in the UK and the payment details, have to be provided to enable the Association to enter into a contract of employment with you. If you do not provide other information, this will hinder the Association's ability to administer the rights and obligations arising as a result of the employment relationship efficiently.

Where does your personal information come from?

The Whiteinch may collect this information in several ways which include:

- Personal data which you have provided to us
- Recruitment processes including information obtained from agencies
- Your identification documents you have given us
- Background checks conditional for your engagement with us
- PVG/Disclosure/DVLA checks relating to criminal convictions/offences
- Former employers or other individuals whom you have given us permission to contact to provide us with a reference.
- Medical professionals provide us with appropriate health information in order that we can manage any health- related situations that may have an impact on your ability to work with us.
- Membership with professional bodies that confirm membership
- Qualifications/training bodies that provide us information relating to you
- Web browsing history and email exchanges will be routinely monitored for the purposes of maintaining the IT infrastructure
- HMRC
- CCTV imagery
- Trade Unions
- Government agencies and regulators
- Debt agencies
- Line managers and colleagues

What Information do we collect?

The Whiteinch Group controls and processes a range of information about you. In this privacy notice 'your personal information' means your personal data i.e. information about you from which you can be identified. Your 'personal information' does not include data where your identity has been removed (anonymous data). It is really important that your personal information that we hold and process is accurate and up to date. Please keep us informed if your personal information changes during your engagement with us.

This includes:

- Your name, address, and contact details including email address and telephone number, date of birth and gender
- The terms and conditions of your employment or engagement with us
- Details of your qualifications, skills, experience and work history, including start and end dates with previous employers and workplaces
- Information about your remuneration, including entitlement to benefits such as, pay, pension and holidays
- Details of your bank account, tax code and national insurance number
- Information about your marital status, next of kin, dependants and emergency contacts
- Information about your nationality and entitlement to work in the UK

- Information about any criminal convictions if relevant for your job.
- Details of your work pattern (days of work and working hours) and attendance at work
- Details of periods of leave taken by you, including holiday, sickness absence, family leave and sabbaticals
- Details of any disciplinary or grievance procedures in which you have been involved, including any warnings issued to you and related correspondence
- Assessments of your performance, including appraisals, performance reviews and ratings, performance improvement plans and related correspondence
- Information about medical or health conditions, including if you have a disability for which the organisation needs to make reasonable adjustments
- Equal opportunities monitoring information, including your ethnic origin, sexual orientation and religion or belief
- CCTV imagery

The data we hold about you will be kept in your personnel file which is stored securely, and access is restricted. The information will only be held in accordance with legal requirements and best practice.

What are the legal bases for us processing your personal data?

We will only process your personal data on one or more of the following legal bases:

- contract
- consent
- our legitimate interests (including CCTV recordings, disaster recovery, next of kin, references and occasional monitoring of Wi-Fi browsing history / staff email accounts in specific circumstances)
- vital interests
- the performance of a task carried out in the public interest and / or with official authority
- legal obligation

Employee Monitoring

We will carry out the following monitoring exercises:

- CCTV – images and footage recorded from the sites at Northinch Court and Fore Street. This is used for staff safety, security and the prevention (detection) of crime
- Wi-Fi Browsing / staff email accounts – although these are not routinely monitored, we may ask our outsourced ICT provider to interrogate these systems to provide evidence if we suspect any inappropriate behaviour
- Landline phone records – we record all incoming and outgoing calls from the office landline

Processing Special Category Personal Data

Special categories of information means information about your racial or ethnic origin; political opinions; religious or philosophical beliefs; trade union membership; health; sex life or sexual orientation; criminal convictions, offences or alleged offences; genetic data; or biometric data for the purposes of uniquely identifying you.

The "special categories" of sensitive personal information referred to above require higher levels of protection. We need to have further justification for collecting, storing and using this type of personal information. All processing of special category personal data will only take place where this is lawful and in accordance with Article 9 of the UK GDPR and the Data Protection Act 2018, which includes when we need to fulfil our obligations as your employer, as outlined below. Please note that these are not the only circumstances where we may process your special category personal data.

Our Obligations as your Employer

We will use your special category your personal information in the following ways:

- relating to leave of absence, which may include sickness absence or family related leave, to comply with employment and other laws.
- We will use information about your physical or mental health, or disability status, to ensure your health and safety in the workplace and to assess your fitness to work, to provide appropriate workplace adjustments, to monitor and manage sickness absence and to administer benefits.
- We will use information about your race or national or ethnic origin, religious, philosophical or moral beliefs, or your sexual life or sexual orientation, to ensure meaningful equal opportunity monitoring and reporting.
- We will use trade union membership information to pay trade union premiums, register the status of a protected employee and to comply with employment law obligations.

Less commonly, we may process this type of information where it is needed in relation to legal claims or where it is needed to protect your interests (or someone else's interests) and you are not capable of giving your consent, where you have already made the information public or where it is otherwise lawful to do so.

Who might my data be shared with, or seen by?

We may disclose your personal data to any of our employees, officers, contractors, insurers, professional advisors, agents, suppliers or subcontractors, government agencies and regulators and healthcare providers insofar as reasonably necessary, and in accordance with data protection legislation.

We may also disclose your personal data:

- with your consent;
- to the extent that we are required to do so by law;
- to complete a regulatory return in relation the Management Committee
- to protect the rights, property and safety of us, our customers, users of our websites and other persons;

- in connection with any ongoing or prospective legal proceedings;
- If we are investigating a complaint, information may be disclosed to solicitors, independent investigators such as auditors, the Scottish Housing Regulator and other regulatory body involved in any complaint, whether investigating the complaint or otherwise;
